

Milestone

Heading into building the site, I have started building HTML pages. Now realizing that there would likely be a lot of them. I am currently coming up with way to downsize slightly to have a functioning product in the next month and a half. When it comes to down to time, I need to make sure first and for most that there is a log in and sign up with an admin log in. Then I want to have a smaller searchable product inventory and add an order function. Lastly, I will attempt to add admin privileges in time permits. Overall, I have a decent start on the forms for a login and signup like what we have been working on in class.

Database

Buyer

ID	Company Name	FName	LName	Email	Phone	ShipStr	ShipCity	ShipState	ShipZip

BillStr	BillCity	BillState	BillZip

Product

ID	ProductName	Color	SKU	UPC	Inventory

Orders

ID	PONumber	Company Name	ShipWindowStart	ShipWindowEnd	ProductName	Notes